Who is the grave of William Hay Who died asserting his right of way His path was clear, his right was strong—But he's just as dead as if he'd been strong.

I will arise and go now, and go to Minister,
And a small cabin build there of clay and wattles made, Nine bean rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee, And live alone in the bee-hive glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow, Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings; There midnight all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the faintest wings.

I will arise and go now, for always midnight and day I hear like water lapping with low sound to the shore; While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements gray.

I hear it in the deep heart's love.

"The Lake Isle of Innisfree" by William Butler Yeats.

But little do men perceive what solitude is and how far it extends For a crowd is not company; and solaces are but a paltry of pictures; and but a thinking crystal where no love is. (Hawthorne)

Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves to gether; that at length they may engage, full-formed and majestic, into the daylight of life, which they are destined to rule. (Thoreau, Varney)

"The art of defining is an indispensable that one needs to define the limits of definition itself. The Socratic emphasis would seem especially needed at a time like the present which has probably surpassed all previous epochs in its loose and irresponsible use of general terms. Unless this tendency is corrected, the day may come when, outside of words that stand for the measurements of science or the objects of science, communicating between men will be well-nigh impossible. The exchange of ideas regarding those aspects of life that fall outside the society quantitative and material may become as difficult as economic exchanges would be with coins that have no definite value." (Hawthorne)

The reward of work well done is having done it.

The foot is more desirous to prove it is not a foot than to acquire wisdom.

CARSELAND

The Christmas Concert was held in the Carseland Hall with an even larger crowd than usual in attendance for this event. Each item indicated much work and careful training. The items were—Sleeping Beauty, by Primary and Intermediate rooms, Cat-

Drill, by Primary. That Rascal Pat, by Intermediate. The Patchwork Quilt, by Grade 12. The Christmas Voice, by the High School Room.
The last sketch made a very fitting close, bringing the up-to-date radio into play in interpreting the spirit of Christmas in a very effective way.

The posting of the rural telephone as a government enterprise is indicated in the formation of a location company to take over the lines immediately around a railroad. The formation of the local company got under way on Saturday when the following Board of Directors was appointed: —A. Phillips, W. E. Hill, G. Moore, house, D. J. McKinnon, G. B. Field, I.
H. Denton, S. Nelson, T. H. Kruse.
The Board then appointed L. A. Phillips, chairman, D. J. McKinnon, vice president, G. B. Field secretary-treasurer. The indications are that the new system will bring into line many more users of the telephone.

At the home of Leroy Wheeler, at Inglewood, a pleasing function took place on Thursday last when Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were congratulated on reaching their Silver Wedding Anniversary. A house full of neighbors gathered for the occasion and, following a social hour, a short program was presented. Rev. and Mrs. Forster sang a duet and a musical parody was rendered by Frank Euton.
Speeches were made by J. Holmes, J.
C. Hatt, Rev. F. Forster and Henry Dixon. The past, present and future of the couple were reviewed in a way that suggested considerable imagination. Mr. Dixon expressed the feeling of the community as he presented a beautiful silver tea and coffee set. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler have been residents in the Inglewood district for some 20 years.

Friends of Louise and Mrs. Peterson gathered Friday evening at the home of Alfred Anderson to honour them on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. A social hour was spent and then L. A. Phillips spoke of the long residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson in the community (they came here in the early part of 1910) after which the presentation of a case of silver and a set of dishes was made by Rev. F. Forster on behalf of the community. There was also a presentation from the family, Mrs. Peterson and Margaret. An appetizing lunch brought the proceedings to a close.

Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth and Mrs. Clarence Berquart were joint hostesses at a tea given in honour of Mrs. Kristin Gougen who has recently moved her home in Bassano. All present enjoyed a social time, after which Mrs.
Forster expressed the thanks of the gathering in appreciation of the community services rendered by Mrs.
Gougen during her life in the district and also presented with tokens of remembrance to keep the sentiment of friendship green in future days.

INDUSTRIES FOR 1936 SHOW RISING TREND

(The Financial Post)

Silk Industry Planning Expansion
The silk and artificial silk industries in Canada have steadily gained ground during recent years and now provide an important portion of the employment furnished by the primary textile industries in Canada.

The growth of the silk industry has been remarkable. Ten years ago the employment was only 2,231 people and today the number employed has multiplied six times and the annual pay roll is six times larger. This group provides direct employment for over 15,000 people in 35 mills located in 30 villages and towns in Canada.

With financing improvement in Canada a major problem to be solved by the Dominion government, it does not appear to us that anything will be done which would halt the ability of this industry to continue to provide more employment in 1936 than in 1935 and we therefore look forward to a continued expansion of operations.

—V. P. Macdonald, President SSK Association of Canada.
Hardware Demand is Growing Widespread hardware sales volume which in each of the last two years has shown an increase of approximately 20 per cent over the previous year, bids fair to continue improvement to about the same extent in 1936, should the building industry revive, some of the lagging departments of the hardware business may show even a greater percentage of gain.

Export Flour Sales Increasing Prospects for the milling industry during 1936 are more hopeful. With the wheat situation in the last year and it is hoped that sales will develop along even more substantial lines over the next 12 months.

ENTR SUSPENDERS

—O—
These mauling progress, or does he merely run round in a circle? The awful doubt has been raised, as a result of a Christmas shopping tour, it seems that suspenders have once more returned to favor, and are one of the high notes in the masculine fashion world. One would expect that the modern trend would manifest itself in dainty tie-ribboned trivis braces, but no! The new brand is as sturdy and dependable looking as the old ones in which father took his ease with such security.

In recent years, the old suspender steadily has been the butt of scorn and jokes, and one had been led to believe that with the banishment of such appliances in favor of belts, men had evolved to a rarer, richer life. He had cast off these shackles of the dubious ancient, still pinned their faith to the good old braces, but secretly, and conscious of the fact that they were not in line with the larger vision, one recalls an intermediate period when consciousness were under a yoke of "invisible" braces, but these were the source of uncertainty and discomfort, and they failed to command esteem.

But once more suspenders are flashing in the sunlight of public approval. They possess charm and distinction, which belts could never fulfill. They are a step forward, a better way of living.

Is it any wonder that the observer is baffled and inclined to doubt the infallibility of man's pronouncements. If he can right about face in the matter of braces, one may be tempted to doubt whether or not he knows his own mind on other questions.

Not that one would dare criticize this fashion note in itself. So far as most men are concerned, this is a far, far better thing they do than they have done for the past thirty years.

Mr and Mrs F. H. Garrett and family were dinner guests of Mr and Mrs R. P. Garrett on New Year's.

Mr and Mrs Leslie Tiede were the guests on Sunday last of Mr and Mrs Maurice Garrett and family.

Miss Pauline Schuler returned to home on Friday last after spending the holidays with her sister Mrs H.
Schuler.

Miss Grace Schuler returned to her home on Sunday last, after spending the Christmas vacation with her personal Mr and Mrs H. G. Schuler.

Miss Frances Harvey of Calgary spent New Year's day at the farm the guest of Mr and Mrs Chas. and Fred Harvey.

Compensating the young ladies, Mrs Leslie Tiede, Mrs Norman Schuler and Mrs H. G. Schuler were co-hostesses at a delightfully arranged tea served on Friday afternoon of last week.

HERVEY NOTES

The young ladies of the district are enjoying skating at the new "Ice rink" on the lake, but the "come think of it" note has been of magnitude to return the home to a continued looking.

Mrs Lockhart is again feeling some not under the weather.

The holidays were very sorry to hear of the week spent taken by the one whom they and families, and near to the quiet company.

The annual school meeting of Fri-

STRATHMORE RED WINGS vs.

GLEICHEN GUNNERS

Hockey

Strathmore defeated Banff Mountaineers, by a 2-0 score, here on Tuesday night before a large crowd.

There was no score in the first period. The players of both teams didn't seem to be hitting their stride. Chilson was sent to the cooler on two occasions for tripping and Armstrong of Banff also served 2 minutes.

The second period found Strathmore with the best of the play and Bill Gilroy scored on a perfect combination play from G. Gilroy and Collins to make it 1 to 0.

Both teams opened up somewhat in the third period and the game was interesting. Douglas of Banff scored on a nice solo effort, only to have George Glenon put the Red Wings up again a minute later, drilling a fast one past the Banff goalie to make it 2 to 1 for Strathmore.

Both teams were very sorry to hear of the week spent taken by the
near to the quiet company.
